

Congratulations on being a BLACKBEAR AI Beta Tester!

This bonus document will help you navigate BLACKBEAR AI and give you “recipes” to start with that you can use to create content: articles, books, or anything else that you need.

As you spend more and more time with BLACKBEAR, it is very likely that you will come up with ideas for new tools and content creation modules that you would find useful.

As you go through and you come up with new ideas for content implementations, suggestions, or run into problems or non-critical errors, please submit your feedback and ideas here:

Note: Please do not use this link for customer support, as this feedback goes directly to our development team. You will typically not receive a response, though we will try to implement your ideas (if possible!) the absolute best that we can.

What You Can Expect During BLACKBEAR AI Beta

Remember, this is BETA and we have big plans to expand BLACKBEAR in the future! Your feedback is invaluable as we grow, but please keep these things in mind:

- You own the rights to the content you create. Each response you generate will be uniquely generated based on the phrases and the tool that you are using, and you are free to use this content as you fit. That also means you are responsible for the content generated.
- Be sure to verify the accuracy of the content generated. You are responsible for the content you publicly publish and/or sell, and although the AI does an excellent job providing high-quality content, it is not necessarily accurate every time and may make inappropriate or inaccurate suggestions.
- The content you generate with BLACKBEAR will not be perfect every time. You will often want to mix-and-match the generated responses provided by BLACKBEAR to create the optimal content for your needs and to make it as high-quality as possible. Human editing is not just recommended, but required before publishing publicly. Be responsible!

- Be sure to disclose when you use AI in your work. The content you generate and edit is yours, but be ethical about the way that you use it and let your readers know that you've used AI in your work. You can do this within your work, or as a disclaimer, or any way that you see fit. As long as your readers know that AI is involved, it's fine!

- You may occasionally run into errors generating content. If we experience issues, an error message will display as a pop-up (sometimes the error may be incoherent or may not make sense.) If this happens to you, note the error, the time that the error happened, and then please submit those details via our feedback form. Typically, if you just wait a minute or two, you can simply try generating the content again and it will work just fine. The A.I. can also occasionally be repetitive and repeat the same chunk of content or sentences over and over. When this happens, simply generate new text using the "New Build" button and start over.

- We will frequently be changing and adding modules. You will likely see "testing" or "v2" (or higher) modules appear as we experiment with improving different tools. As a BLACKBEAR Beta Member, you are privy to experiment with these behind-the-scenes modules, but please use them responsibly and if you happen to experience content generations that violate the good-natured intentions of this powerful platform, please let us know.

- BLACKBEAR is a very powerful tool and we want all of our users to use it responsibly. Please be sure to review our terms of use, disclaimer, and content policy (though, honestly, most of what you need to know has already been covered in this section.)

With all that in mind, let's dive in...

The BUILD LOG button you see at the top will list all of the AI generations you have completed using BLACKBEAR for future reference.

You will not need to use the “Get Credits” button as you will be provided with all the credits you need as a Beta Member. During the 7 Day Challenge, you will be provided with enough credits to generate 10,000+ words so you can freely experiment with BLACKBEAR.

After the 7 days are complete, our team will top your account up with enough credits to generate at least 10 million words at no extra charge.

To get started using BLACKBEAR, simply choose the tool that you wish to use and click the “Build” button on the right side.

One of our favorite tools is the BLACKBEAR Research Assistant, so let’s start with that. It provides you with detailed writing and research about nearly any topic of your choice. When you click the “Build” button, you will see the tool pop-up with the criteria that you need to enter.

Let's say you want to create an article about building chicken coops. In this case, your target audience would be farmers. Simply type those into their respective boxes:

The screenshot shows the BLACKBEAR Research Assistant interface. A modal window is open, titled "BLACKBEAR Research Assistant". It contains the following text: "Enter any topic and the target audience you wish to research. Works best for fact-based, objective topics. Please see the limitations listed in the header and be sure to disclose to your readers whenever you use AI in your work." Below this, there are two input fields. The first is labeled "Enter Topic or Subject Matter:" and contains the text "Building Chicken Coops". The second is labeled "Enter Target Audience:" and contains the text "Farmers". Both fields have a "256 characters max" label. Below the input fields is a blue button labeled "New Build (5 credits)". At the bottom of the modal are two buttons: "Copy" and "Build Log". The background shows a sidebar with various tools: "BLACKBEAR Keyword Brainstormer", "BLACKBEAR Sales Outline Crafter", "BLACKBEAR E-Mail Subject Line Writer", "BLACKBEAR Sales Creative Writer", "BLACKBEAR Research Assistant", and "BLACKBEAR Product Innovator". Each tool has a "Build" button and a "5 Credits" label.

And then press the “New Build” button.

Bam! Within just a few seconds, you'll have detailed information about what our A.I. can tell you about building chicken coops for an audience of farmers.

Now, with the content generated, you have a few choices:

- You can press the “Copy” button to copy the text to your computer's clipboard, and then paste the content into a Word Document editor of your choice to start working with it (for example, Microsoft Word, OpenOffice Documents, or our personal favorite, Google Docs.)
- Sometimes, the A.I. may be particularly verbose on a topic and you will see a “Generate More” button appear. If you want the A.I. to continue writing using the same “train of thought” and write the following sentences after the generation initially stopped, then you can click that button. Note that the more you click “Generate More” for a single generation, the more credits it will cost - our server costs increase each time you press the “Generate More” button because it requires more processing power (and costs) on our end to complete the generation, so we recommend you only use it when you want the A.I. to continue generating content using the same context that it has already provided to you.

- Alternatively, you can also press “New Build” again, which generates completely new content for you using the same criteria as you entered before (i.e., Building Chicken Coops for an audience of Farmers.)

If you are satisfied with the quality of content generation, we recommend you try generating content using the same criteria a few different times and then merging different outputs to get the content you want.

If you are dissatisfied with the quality of generations provided, try changing up the keywords or phrases you are using to generate the content, changing the audience you are targeting, being more specific with the content you are looking to generate, or changing the phrasing of what content you are looking for.

With that in mind, start putting BLACKBEAR to work for you, and be sure to experiment with the different modules that are provided to you to understand everything that can be done for you.

There is limitless potential for you to unlock...
